Wi-Fi Sense

- Introduced with Windows 8.1 in 2014
- Intent was to allow for easy sharing of Wi-Fi information for Facebook, Outlook & Skype contacts
- Fear that this feature may share your social media account info
- Due to low-adoption rates of the feature and cost, Microsoft will drop the application
- Will not be present in the Win10 Anniversary Edition due out this summer

Apple Updates

- Apple published updates for all of its OSes – OS X, iOS, watchOS, & tvOS
- Updates apply to iTunes and Safari browser as well
- Resolves the DROWN (SSLv2) vulnerability, released in March
- Always backup your device before applying patches or updates

Chrome to block Flash by default

- Google revealed plans to make HTML5 the primary player in Chrome by Q4
- Will continue to ship with Adobe Flash but will not be enabled by default
- Users will be prompted to run or decline playing Flash

117 Million LinkedIn Accounts “For Sale”

- Database dump of 117 million account records for sale on a darknet market site
- Valued @ 5 Bitcoins (approx. $2,200 USD)
- Contains userIDs, email addresses, and SHA1 password hashes
- Could be related to the 2012 breach when 6.5 million accounts were posted online
- Change password; use two-factor authentication (requires mobile #)
